Hunters Asked To Cooperate

To Cooperate

HARRISBURG — Hunters kinding up the 1963 small game season next Saturday, November 30 were asked today to make a double-check on their coats and game bags. Some of the game birds they shot this month may have carried something special — an aluminum leg band.

Saturday declaring Monday a day of mourning. State and U.S. flags flew at half staff. Black bunting hung from homes and churches in the state capitol. The legislature had set Monday for reconvening when it adjourned last week before the president's tragic shooting. Under law the session could not be postponed without the two houses meeting.

The National Shame

death of President Kennedy and compassion for his brave widow and children, the people of this shaken nation are searching their own hearts for explanations and are feeling a deepening sense of shame.

We did not shoot the President ourselves. We did not shoot the man suspected of his assassination. But both crimes took place in America at this moment in history.

We cannot blame Lee Harvey Oswald alone for the murder of our President.

Too many other Americans have the same twisted hatred of authority, our national leaders, and our way of life. There are too many other extremists on the right and left fringes of American political life.

We cannot blame Jack Ruby alone for the murder of Oswald.

Too many other Americans take the law into their own hands or commit crimes in the name of righteousness, Too many seek political or personal reyenge outside law or decency.

We cannot blame Dallas, Texas, alone for the hatred and lawlessness which Thas been running rampant in that city for some time.

Adlai Stevenson was spat upon in Dallas not long ago by one of its conservative extremists. And now a presidential assassination and the murder of his suspected assassin in Dallas have horrified the nation and the world.

But the same extremism on right and left exists in many other American cities where hatred and prejudice have

We cannot blame Dallas police alone for their carelessness in the handling of Oswald, even after a warning by the FBI of threats on his life. Nor can we blame them alone for their understandable anxiety to wring a confession from

The police in many cities of Americal have abused the rights of individuals, have put arrested suspects under the pressure of hours of questioning without legal defense or advice.

One of the most pathetic and now ironic statements of the weekend was a plea Oswald made before television cameras, "All I ask is that someone come forward to give me legal assistance," Oswald said.

It was a simple, fair request for a right guaranteed under our legal system. But no lawyer stepped forward RESEAR and his answer came from a gun.

We cannot blame the lawyers of Dallas, Texas, alone for their understandable reluctance to answer Oswald's call to duty. There are lawyers all over the country who shrink from the unprofitable defense of a suspected criminal and fear controversial cases.

> The salient point is that there are some tough, top-ranking GOP warlords in the Keystone State Republicans orbit who see anything but eye to eye with Mr. Scranton's political head shrinking strategy — who not only do

They went along with the Scranton candidacy against their own better judgment—not from the "better judgment" standpoint that he wouldn't win the gubernatorial (which he dld, of course) but from the standpoint of the difficulties they knew they would encounter once he as-

Their fears have been borne out in several Instances in the already short-lived past covering the eleven months of the Scranton tenure—with his stand against presidential possibilities entering the Keystone State for the purpose of committing delegates regarded committing delegates regarded as something approaching the "crowning point." To those opposing the Scranton viewpoint and strategy, his insistence that GOPresi-tial possibilities such as Governor Rockefeller and Senator Goldwater knock off trying to gain Pennsylvania delegate support makes about as much sense as an avowed candidate refusing to campaign!

(The interesting point is of course, that if these "anti-Scrantonites" were in Mr. Scranton's shoes, in all probability they would be in favor of the "closed delegate" sys-

It is significant that both the Rockefeller and Goldwater ("I'm not a candidate

Speaking Of Your Health:

Surgery For The Deaf

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D. The deaf are beginning to be liberated from the silent barriers that confine them to an anxious, frustrating, hu-morless and often friendless existence.

As the shackles of dealness are being destroyed, the limit-ed world of loneliness and mental anguish of the deaf is being replaced by the wide horizons of hope and happi-

of medicine has been particu-larly blessed since 1938, when the miracle sulfa drugs and the antibiotics almost totally eradicated mastoiditis, one the dreaded complications of acute infections of the ear.

Olologists almost coinciden-tally embarked on new courageous researches that released many of the deaf from the bondage of silence.
Surgical Techniques

Dr. Julius Lempert, a surgi-cal scientist of unparalleled imagination, continued to orginate surgical techniques that have brought the happiness of sound to many thousands of deaf persons.

Employing the collected wisdon of his purely scientific predecessors, Dr. Lempert opened the era of fenestration surgery. The Lempert fenes-tration, or widow-making, operation was especially design ed for a particular kind o hereditary deafness oto olo-

The remarkable success of Dr. Lempert's technique was dinmed only when, in some cases, the tiny surgical win-dow gradually closed and once dow gradually closed and once more the patient returned to the former level of deafness.

They wrote Deputy Attorney General Nicholas deB. Katzen-bach demanding a written statement of policy after offi-cials of both departments ad-mitted the use of whretapping after first denying the practice to Senate committees.

About 380 B.C., Antisthenes, a former pupil of Socrates, founded a school of philoophy in Athens, Greece. Antisthenes taught that virtue was the only good, and vic-tue could be attained through self-control and independence. The new philosophy stressed the importance of the Indivi-dual and questloned many customs of society. In their con-lempt for the opinion of so-ciety, the members of this new school of philosophy adopted slovenly ways. Later the philosophy deteriorated into a gen-eral protest of social customs.

Society held these men in great contempt and called them "Cynles," from the Greek word for dog. From Cynle came the word "cynleal," which means to be distrustful of the motives of others.

We did not shoot the President ourselves. We did not shoot the man suspected of his assassination. But both crimes took place in America at this moment in history.

We cannot blame Lee Harvey Oswald alone for the murder of our President.

Too many other Americans have the same twisted hatred of authority, our national leaders, and our way of life. There are too many other extremists on the right and left fringes of American political life.

We cannot blame Jack Ruby alone for the murder of Oswald.

Too many other Americans take the law into their own hands or commit crimes in the name of righteousness. Too many seek political or personal revenge outside law or decency.

We cannot blame Dallas, Texas, alone for the hatred and lawlessness which Thas been running rampant in that city for some time.

Adlai Stevenson was spat upon in Dallas not long ago by one of its conservative extremists, And now a presidential assassination and the murder of his suspected assassin in Dallas have horrified the nation and the world.

But the same extremism on right and left exists in many other American cities where hatred and prejudice have

We cannot blame Dallas police alone for their carelessness in the handling of Oswald, even after a warning by the FBI of threats on his life. Nor can we blame them alone for their understandable anxiety to wring a confession from Oswald.

The police in many cities of America? have abused the rights of individuals, have put arrested suspects under the pressure of hours of questioning without legal defense or advice.

One of the most pathetic and now ironic statements of the weekend was a plea Oswald made before television cameras. "All I ask is that someone a come forward to give me legal assistance," Oswald said,

It was a simple, fair request for a right guaranteed under our legal system. But no lawyer stepped forward RESEAL and his answer came from a gun.

We cannot blame the lawyers of Dallas, Texas, alone for their understandable reluctance to answer Oswald's call to duty. There are lawyers all over the country who shrink from the unprofitable defense of a suspected criminal and fear controversial cases.

"Why Do Stores Start Christmas Before Thanksgiving?" It's A Question Often Asked; It Deserves A Sincere Answer!

Many people do not realize the problems which prompt early Christmas shopping promotions.

For example: a problem peculiar to this year, is that there are 5 fewer shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas than normal years.

However, when all the reasons for the urge to "Shop Early" are examined, the most critical persons will agree that it's more than a problem for stores alone.

So, we're happy to take this opportunity to present some of the problems that confront all stores at holiday time.

Every successful store directs its best effort toward perfecting a helpful service to all its customers. And since many customers ask stores to make it easier to complete gift shopping before the crowded post-Thanksgiving period, Christmas merchandise and displays are brought forward early to accommodate them.

And scarcely a major store in the nation could cope with the store traffic that would be generated if any part of early Christmas shopping was postponed until after Thanksgiving. Even under present circumstances most stores are strained to capacity during the peak season, to maintain the kind of service all shoppers have learned to expect.

When you recall the extremely crowded conditions of stores the final two weeks before Christmas the problem becomes evident.

If no early Christmas shopping were done, these conditions would be multiplied many fold. (Actually, there would not be enough room behind store counters for sales people to serve shoppers during this period between Thanksgiving and Christmas.)

The same condition exists in regard to children's visits to Santa Claus. Thousands of children and their parents look forward to an annual visit with him, and unless he makes an early appearance, many hundreds would be disappointed, simply because it's physically impossible to reach him in a shorter time.

Those in business know that an extremely large percentage of Christmas gifts selected are items in plentiful supply throughout the year.

If you were to talk with your favorite merchant and his assistants, they would tell you that much of the stress and strain of Christmas could be relieved if the shopping public would anticipate Christmas all during the year.

Every store tries very hard to maintain its regular standards of customer service throughout the Christmas season. It can be done with much greater satisfaction for customers and friends, when shopping is spread over a greater period of time. And this, too, makes it much less of a task for those, who, for some reason, may not have a chance to plan ahead and select tradition gifts for their loved ones and friends.

We are certain that if every one of our storekeepers could chat with you, personally and informally, that you would be convinced of their sincerity, and would commend their efforts to perform a helpful service to their shopping public.

Finally, for these many reasons, we sincerely believe that you will welcome the suggestion to begin your Christmas shopping early . . . that you will find it easier, faster and thoroughly enjoyable.

So plan your Christmas shopping early . . . while selections are their best . . . while you have lots of time to compare and choose wisely . . . while sales people have time to give you the best help and the kind of service which will make your Christmas shopping a happy time.

on his tour of Texas.

On this terribly sad day, there were no Republicans or Democrats in Wyckoff's; there were only Americans; young and old, Catholic, Hebrew and Protestant, rich and poor, their faces mirroring the bewilderment they felt that such a thing should happen here IN OUR COUNTRY. It has happened before, of course, but most of us like to believe that, as our national intellect developed, everyone had come to realize that the greatest weapon, and the only sensible one to us in governmental affairs, is the ballot . . . not the bullet.

mental affairs, is the ballot . . . not the bullet.

Every Sears television set was going full blast . . . every channel offering a bulletin from Texas was tuned in. The crowd drifted from one set to another, straining to hear every word of the sketchy reports. Some screens showed nothing except the word "BULLETIN" spelled out in letters of ominous height. Others held the face of a young man who looked serious but kindly—the JFK who, at that moment, we were told, was receiving blood transfusions in a desperate attempt to stave off death. There was no picture on any screen of stave off death. There was no picture on any screen of the pretty woman who had gathered him in her arms as he fell, screaming, "Oh, no—Oh, my God." yet avery as he ien, screaming, "On, no—On, my God; yet everyone standing there in Sears saw her only too clearly, and

At last, the picture on the screen changed. Now we saw one of the final photographs made of the couple—a proud and smiling President, applauding enthusiastically as his lovely wife stood to receive the welcome of a Dallas breakfast-gathering just a few hours before. At last it came... the word everyone felt must surely come, yet had prayed not to hear. The young man was dead.

Next week he was to spend Thanksgiving Day with his wife, children, and parents in New England. Now the whole aspect of Thanksgiving had been changed in a sad, subtle way for all of us. In moments of great national or international significance, there is no place in Stroudsburg more popular than our Sears television department. It is here that Wyckoff-Sears personnel and customers assemble to follow the dramatic peaks of a baseball game . . . an election . . . the coronation of a queen . . . or the outerspace adventures of an astronaut. It was here that many of us gathered once again last Friday afternoon to await fearfully the news of our President, shot down on his tour of Texas. On this terribly sad day, there were no Republicans or Democrats in Wyckoff's; there were only Americans; young and old, Catholic, Hebrew and Protestant, rich and poor, their faces mirroring the bewilderment they felt that such a thing should happen here IN OUR COUNTRY. It has happened before, of course, but most of us like to believe that, as our national intellect developed, everyone had come to realize that the greatest weapon, and the only sensible one to us in govern-mental affairs, is the ballot . . . not the bullet.

Every Sears television set was going full blast . . every channel offering a bulletin from Texas was tuned in. The crowd drifted from one set to another, straining to hear every word of the sketchy reports. Some screens showed nothing except the word "BULLETIN" spelled out in letters of ominous height. Others held the face of a young man who looked serious but kindly -the JFK who, at that moment, we were told, was receiving blood transfusions in a desperate attempt to stave off death. There was no picture on any screen of the pretty woman who had gathered him in her arms as he fell, screaming, "Oh, no-Oh, my God;" yet everyone standing there in Sears saw her only too clearly, and wondered what this same young mother would say to her children, back home in Washington, if the final, dreaded announcement had to be made

At last, the picture on the screen changed. Now we saw one of the final photographs made of the couple -a proud and smiling President, applauding enthusiastically as his lovely wife stood to receive the welcome of a Dallas breakfast-gathering just a few hours before. At last it came . . . the word everyone felt must surely come, yet had prayed not to hear. The young man was

Next week he was to spend Thanksgiving Day with his wife, children, and parents in New England. Now the whole aspect of Thanksgiving had been changed in a sad, subtle way for all of us. Life still goes on and we shall feast no doubt . . . but we cannot forget what has happened, or discount what it means to us as a nation and to the Kennedys themselves.

As an American, I am thankful that this was a religious man who died . . . a man who said his prayers, attended his church, and was not a stranger to his God. There is great comfort in this. I am thankful that the taking of human life so needlessly is still such a rarity in our nation's history than every one of us has been physically sickened and emotionally enraged by it. I am Mankful too that, even as this man lay dying, another man stood in the wings prepared to assume the heavy, burdensome, often thankless mantle of our national

These are unimportant thoughts perhaps. My eyes keep blurring and I keep visualizing a handsome young man with wide eyes and thick shock of hair, walking with a tiny boy and a golden haired little girl. I am sure this man would know exactly what I mean when I say that today, even in my grief and shame, I am prouder than ever to be an American. Not for a moment would I want anyone ANYWHERE to question that ... would you?

Pen Argyl Foe

Bangor Aims For Upset

BANGOR — Underdog Bangor Area High will enter the annual Turkey Day classic against Pen Argyl High at Pen Argyl Thursday attempting to remove the dominance the Green Knights held over the Maroon the past two years. The Green Knights will take an undefeated record onto the field of battle while Bangor Slaters will field a tean that has in its own right a rather impressive record of 6 wins, two defeats and one tie game. In the years of the rivairy placed for the 43rd contest in ditional battle. His team will be a question mark, since it has not been determined if Jim Dietz, first string quarter back will be able to play in this game. Dietz injured his thumb in practice sessions nearly four weeks ago and has missed the past two games, those with Palmerton which the Slaters won by a 21 to 13 count and the last contest with the Hellertown Panthers by a close 7 to 6 score, In both of these games Dave Krauss, second string quarter has taken over the generalship.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Tuesday, November 26, 1963 March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Not all that transpires will please ou, but some of the situations you lon't like will actually prove fortun-te. Stress accuracy and pay no ed to rumors.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) —

April 21 to much worse than

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)

You may be required to work under trying circumstances now, as will many other zodical natives, I beliooves all, therefore, to be at the possible of the control of the actful and understanding as possi tactful and understanding as possible.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) —
Planetary influences are restrictive in some matters, friendly to others. Feel your way prudently but not fearfully. Aviod the useless; there is much good about.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) —
Anchor to a well organized program. Do not expose yourself to needless precarious a ction, nor make foolish compromises, to be later regretted. Head up.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Keep emotions under control now and do not make drastic and needless changes on the spur of the moment. You are soon to be offered an unusual opportunity.

for elever organization.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Sudden, unexpected changes of plan, unconventional action could get you into difficulties and disrupt the smooth running of your schedule. Lean toward the practical rather than the theoretical Admary 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — You have better plantary influences than most, but you could still miss a real opportunity if you are careless, non-heeding. Ambitions and perceptions should be keen now. February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) Tebruary 20 to March 20 (Pisces)

An excellent Neptune influence should help to net your fine results from your endeavors; perhaps some unusual recognition. Be alert to every opportunity.

YOU BORN TODAY: Your active mind is ready for, eager for attainment. Study, keep learning, Many inventors, famous researchers and leaders were born under Scorpio. Control emotions and desires. Gains must be achieved by following an orderly, carefully designed pattern—not in leaps or possibly overshot bounds. Your remarkable adaptability and subtle strength can be valuable weapons in times of stress. Don't scatter your energies. Birthdate of; Wm. Cowper, English poet.

GOLD-STRIKE BOWLING CONTEST

$25.00 Cash Prize This Week

ANYONE CAN PLAY! ANYONE CAN WIN! ENTER TODAY!

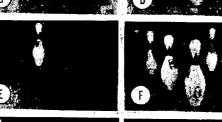

ANSWER TO CONTEST

"The following answers and pictures are certified correct

NO. 32 APPEARS BELOW

It's Easy!

Just determine correctly the number of pins knocked down in each photo. Enter score and sponsor's name in the proper box below. Do not add each frame. Strikes count 10.

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES:

On this page are clues and pictures in the advertisements of sports-minded Pocono Area business firms. Simply determine the number of pins knocked down as a results of the action depicted in each picture. Enter that number in the corresponding box on the entry blank. Do NOT add the scores as you go along as in regular bowling. But totaled together your individual scores should equal the total score indicated. Strikes are counted as 10 and do NOT affect the score in the succeeding box. Fill in the rest of the entry blank. To the person getting the exact correct score in each box and complying with the rules will go the cash prizes.

THIS WEEK'S ENTRIES MUST BE IN THE DAILY RECORD OFFICE OR POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN THURSDAY 4 P.M.

Anyone within the circulation area of The Daily Record except employes of this newspaper and members of their families are eligible. If more than one correct solution is received the prize money will be equally divided between the winners. If no correct answers are received an additional $5.00 will be added to next week's prize money. Until a total of $50.00 is offered. Decision of the judges is final and all contestants taking part agree to accept those decisions as a condition of entry. The name of the winner and pictures will be published next Tuesday. Watch for a new bowling contest each week in The Dally Record.

Clip along dot-ted line and mail or bring to The Daily Record office.

SCORE

Deadline for entries is Thurs, 4 P.M

It is not necessary to use this entry blank. You may use a plain piece of paper, but the games and firm names must be listed in numerical order as on entry blank.

HOW TO WRITE CLASSIFIED WANT AD

1-11 S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the hame of the article or service you have to offer. If you have in abortise it of from for rent er property for sale, start your advertisement with the location and city in which it is locared.

2-BE CALAR. Readers respond more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite details. Be sure to include price in ads, whenever possible — it is the consumer's "most wanted" information

3 MAKE IT EASY for the reader prospect to reach you. Always insert your telephone number or your name and address. It you do not have regular hours give a preferred time to have regular from the control of the con

4-THE GREATEST READER ATTENTION can be secured for your advertisement by using consecutive insertions. Play safe —a 6-day order is best and costs less! You can stop your add in the event of results and then pay only for the days it is published at the rate carned.

5-PLACE YOURSELP in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like in know (about your affer). The answer you give will make a good classified Want Ad.

6-WANT ADS THAT FAIL to bring satisfaction do so, not through any lack of teadership, but because they are often carelessly worlded and do not contain enough information to

7-TO PLACE YOUR AD in the Bally Record simply phone 421-7349 between 5.50 A.M. and 5.00 P.M., Monday through Friday or Saturday 6:50 to 12 moon, and an experienced and convictous ad-writer will help you.

YOUR AD WILL BE DELIVERED To OVER 40,000 READERS
